BRODHEAD JAYCEES COVERED BRIDGE

In 1984 a replica of the Clarence Covered Bridge, one of the last known covered bridges in use in Wisconsin, was built by the Brodhead Jaycees over Norwegian Creek on the Sugar River Bike Trail. The original bridge spanned the Sugar River south of town on what is now Highway 11. The replica is approximately 2 1/4 miles north of town on the Sugar River Bike Trail and 1/4 mile north of Golf Course Road.
